

GARTH WEBB SECONDARY SCHOOL
Registration day set for students not currently attending schools within the Halton District School Board

A special registration day is scheduled for parents who do not currently have students attending schools in the Halton District School Board, but are interested in registering their child/children for Garth Webb Secondary School in Oakville. Garth Webb Secondary School is currently under construction and scheduled to open in September 2012. The registration day will be held:

Wednesday, February 8, 2012 • 2-7 p.m.
Emily Carr Public School, 2255 Pine Glen Road, Oakville

Administrative staff for the new school will be on hand during the registration day so parents can learn more about the school, its programs, and plans for the upcoming year.

The boundary for the school is posted on the Halton District School Board website www.hdsb.ca. See links from the home page under “Program and Accommodation” or under “Schools” and click on Garth Webb Secondary School.
