

Staff Say...

1

Overall, respondents feel comfortable sharing their opinions at work.

73% feel that their opinions make a difference in building a positive work environment

2

The majority of respondents have the tools required to effectively do their job; especially non-technology tools.

3

There appear to be frequent opportunities to be creative and innovative at work.

70%

feel they have opportunities to share ideas with a supervisor

11%

say they lack opportunities to learn in a more informal way

say they have access to the technology required to do their job effectively

4

The majority of managers/supervisors found the training they received was effective.

56% received training in equitable recruitment

56% would be interested in additional training in the future

74% are interested in more training in performance management

62% are interested in further progressive discipline training

5

Job satisfaction is high, especially among system leaders and teaching staff.

6

Nearly half of respondents have had contact with Human Resources (HR) in the past year.

HR Staff

- 82% show a high level of professionalism
- 80% have a positive attitude
- 79% are responsive to needs

7

Educators believe that their school creates an inclusive and respectful environment for students.

agree their school promotes opportunities for students to get involved

feel that students treat each other with respect